

REV GROUP INTRODUCES COMPLETELY REDESIGNED FLEETWOOD RV FLAIR

Jun. 25th, 2018

The Iconic Class A Gas Motorhome receives an all-new look for model year 2019

MILWAUKEE--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- REV Recreational Vehicle Group, a division of REV Group, Inc (REVG) announced the introduction of the totally redesigned entry-level Class A Gas Fleetwood Flair. The Flair is a classic Fleetwood RV model, but the 2019 Flair is a completely new look and feel, more like a higher priced Class A.

With its modern look, feature-packed interior, and spacious layout, the Flair is ready for the open road. Amenities like a king bed, Hide-A-Loft™ bed, ducted A/C, residential refrigerator (select models), modern cabinetry and auto generator start, the Flair looks and feels more like a higher priced Class A. The 2019 Flair also brings a host of practical features, such as 50-amp service, heated holding tanks and pass-thru storage, as well as offers options like theater seating, an upgraded suspension package, and power driver seat.

"We saw a need to build a coach that would answer the demand of the industry's fastest growing customer base. Our dealers and customers were asking for a practical entry-level class A that was feature-packed, but still at an affordable price. The Flair is the model that fills the void," said Pat Terveer, Vice President and General Manager of REV Recreation Group.

The all-new Flair creates a comprehensive lineup for Fleetwood RV, giving the brand standout models in all key segments of the Class A RV market. 2019 Flairs are available now at Fleetwood dealers across the U.S. and in Canada.
