

REV GROUP FIRE DIVISION PARTNERS WITH HAAS ALERT FOR USE OF SAFETY CLOUD SERVICE IN E-ONE, FERRARA AND KME TRUCKS

May. 30th, 2018

OCALA, Fla.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- REV Group (NYSE: REVG), a manufacturer of industry-leading specialty vehicle brands, has entered a multi-year partnership with HAAS Alert Safety Cloud service on E-ONE, Ferrara and KME fire apparatus.

E-ONE, Ferrara and KME fire apparatus with AXIS™ Smart Truck Technology will also be equipped with the HAAS Safety Cloud to allow first responders to broadcast their route to nearby motorists via smartphone apps when emergency vehicles are nearby. By delivering real-time alerts to drivers and connected cars, the HAAS Alert Responder-to-Vehicle (R2V) service can aid in preventing collisions and enabling safer and faster emergency response. The new service will give firefighters another tool in protecting their crews and the public.

“HAAS Alert’s Safety Cloud service aligns perfectly with our commitment to fleet and crew safety,” said Jay Johnson, Vice President of Product Management, Marketing and After-Market at REV Group’s Fire Division. “Fire Departments are always looking for ways to make their communities safer and they turn to E-ONE, Ferrara and KME to help make that happen.”

Cory Hohns, CEO of HAAS Alert, commented, “HAAS Alert is proud to provide safety-focused technology to the First Responder market through our R2V Safety Cloud service. This partnership with REV Group’s fire division will make these innovations more accessible than ever, allowing more Fire Departments to introduce R2V real-time alerts into their communities.”
