...ant investment for our community," said Randy Hanson, President and General Manager. "Our decision to move to a single complex versus several smaller facilities, located over five miles apart, will bring our long culture, enhance our manufacturing capabilities, improve our service to customers, and allows for

...on is being executed in a phased approach to avoid any disruption of production. Facility completion is expected to be completed by the end of this summer. The new facility installation should be completed by February 2022. The new facility layout will provide several key advantages:

- Expansion from 4 production lines to 5 increases production capacity to allow for additional growth.
- Single-piece flow through all stages of the state-of-the-art paint process for new and remounted ambulances provides greater consistency.
- Utilization of designated quality gates will further enhance overall vehicle quality.

"AEV has an unwavering commitment to caring for our staff, customers and dealers," continued Hanson. "Our new, unified manufacturing facility will allow us to deliver our American-crafted excellence and customer experience in the best possible environment."
