Since its founding, Capacity has been proud of its East Texas roots and to be a part of the Longview, Texas, community. To mark its 50th anniversary, the company will be hosting a special celebration in Longview, as well as a meeting in Texas, for its extensive and dedicated dealer network. Additionally, Capacity will be attending the TMC Annual Meeting & Transportation Technology Exhibition in March and the Advanced Clean Transportation (ACT) Show in May.

“Over the last 50 years, Capacity has become an industry leader in terminal trucks, recognized for its robust manufacturing, high level of customization and durable products,” said Wes Downing, vice president and general manager of Capacity. “I’m incredibly excited to celebrate this major milestone in our company’s history throughout the course of this year and take time to recognize all we’ve achieved in the industry.”

Capacity, the manufacturer of the “Original” Trailer Jockey, has experienced many milestones over the past five decades, whether its launching proprietary safety features for the end-user or developing innovative products that allow customers a more sustainable way to move the world’s cargo. Key moments include:

- 1974 – The smallest Capacity Truck was built for Kennedy Airport, 48” tall and 66” WB
- 1988 – Capacity moved to its current location at 401 Capacity Drive, Longview, Texas
- 1990 – Dura-Ride[®] trademarked and patented
- 1991 – The largest Capacity Truck was built for Tofeco Oil Field Co., over 43” feet long
- 2006 – Capacity joins ASV (REV)

- 2010 – CNG and LNG fuel types available
- 2011 – Capacity launches the industry's first hybrid truck
- 2018 – Delivers industry's first operational hydrogen fuel cell truck
- 2023 – H₂ and BE fuel types launch
